

Things to Watch For In a New Daycare Dog

- My running amok may be rough on my feet and I may get sore and abraded pads. This will go away as my pads get thicker and used to running on different surfaces.
- My time here in daycare is so much fun, I may forget to pace myself and get sore muscles. Over time this will fade as you see me get stronger and more in shape.
- My new social interaction will be physically as well as mentally exhausting—look for me to need a lot of rest when I get home!
- My enthusiasm to enter the group will grow as I get more used to being at MetroBark. Eventually I will be just as excited to get to MetroBark as I am when you pick me up at night!
- My coat may be wet when you pick me up during the summer—on hot days I love to lounge in the pools. Don't worry; the water is changed very frequently to keep me clean and healthy.
- My tail will be wagging and you may even get to see me smile to show my gratitude for bringing me to play at MetroBark!
